What we need to know

Incolink Job Support will need your personal contact details, trade qualifications, licences, tickets and skills as well as a description of your experience relevant to the work you are seeking.

Many trade qualifications, licences, tickets and skills can be indicated on the form just by ticking a box. For the employer to make the right choice it is essential to be able show supporting information. This can be done by providing a good description of work previously performed.

Remember: what you consider simply “part of the job” may not be known or understood by an employer, particularly if they are not familiar with work skills required in construction or engineering. Include some detail in this area – e.g. Did you manage any other workers? Get any tickets/qualifications just for that job?
